

Rosenberg Library's Minecraft Realm

Minecraft Server Use

If you own your own Minecraft account and want access to our library Minecraft server from home, please take a look at these guidelines, fill out the information on the back and return to the Children's reference desk!

- The Rosenberg Library Minecraft server is available to all youth up to age 18 and is FREE!
- The game runs in Survival mode and only on PC/Mac computers.
- All youth wishing to access the library's Minecraft server must read this form and fill out the information on the back.
- The server address is rosenberglibrary.meloncu.be

Chat Rules

- Treat everyone with respect in the game and in the chat channel.
- No bullying or 'griefing' of other players or their builds is allowed.
- Swearing is not allowed in chat. This includes using special characters in place of letters.
- Spamming is not allowed in chat.
- No abusive, homophobic, sexist, racist, pornographic, drug-related, political, threatening, or religious talk is allowed in chat.
- Do not advertise other servers in chat as this can result in a ban.
- Chat logs may be kept to review your activity.

Game Rules

- Youth up to age 18 are allowed to participate on the server, as well as library staff.
- All rules regarding language, profanity, and banned discussion topics apply to signs and structures in game.
- Game, bug, and duplication exploits, including client-side game mods that affect other players' ability to interact with the game world, will result in a ban.
- Map mods, graphic mods, and performance mods are allowed if they do not give a gameplay advantage over other players.
- No scripting is allowed.
- Library staff is not able to know who is using your account (sibling, friend, etc.) if you share your login with others. If your account is caught doing anything inappropriate, it will be banned.
- The server will be rolled back for crashes if possible, but not for lag.
- All accounts must be whitelisted by library staff before being able to access the server.
