Our Galveston and Texas History Center and Rosenberg Library Museum team members contributed to a digital Galveston Mardi Gras feature produced by the Galveston County Daily News. Efforts included historical information summarized in a voiceover, as well as footage of museum artifacts such as a preserved coronation gown and original costume design drawings.

We proudly served as one of the 14 locations that participated in Galveston Museum Weekend! We invited visitors to explore the many interesting artifacts on display throughout our library and view the final days of the "Weathering the Storm" exhibit, and also invited them to participate in a fun scavenger hunt with prizes.
